HISTOIRE DE L´ENTREPRISE

Shanghai Precision is a supplier of batch plant from China, providing entire solution of raw materials handling for glass melting with turn-key supply of engineering design, equipment supply and construction service. The company was found in year 2004 by one Finnish company who used to be one of the worldwide leading suppliers of batch plant.

Working closely with customers, Shanghai Precision could always work out a valid solution to full fill any needs of dosing, weighing, mixing or transferring in batch house or Cullet system in glass factories.

For the past 10+ years, Shanghai Precision adopted state-of-art technology and has supplied batch plants for more than 100 glass furnaces in both China and overseas. Our supplies and services have been qualified and accepted by many international glass manufacturers like Guardian, ASAHI, Saint-Gobain, Schott, Corning, Knauf, Owens-Corning and many others in Asia, Europe and America.

As a high-quality and reliable batch plant supplier, Shanghai Precision has kept to pursuit technology innovation and excellence quality in order to bring more competitive products and service to our customers with greater value.

SORG acquired Shanghai Precision partly in year 2013 through his subsidiary company EME GmbH, and come into partnership with Shanghai Precision.
